How is the money invested?	You have a choice of investment options, classified in three paths: Path 1 – Make it easier for me - This option selects an investment for you based upon your date of birth and years left to retirement. The fund periodically rebalances the allocation to stocks and bonds and adjusts its risk as you approach retirement. Generally speaking, Target Date funds target a certain date range for retirement, or the date the investor plans to start withdrawing money. Investors can select the fund that corresponds to their target date. They are designed to rebalance to a more conservative approach as the date nears. An investment in the Target Date fund is not guaranteed at any time, including on or after the target date. Path 2 – Give me some choices - This option allows you to choose from a set of actively and passively managed investment options from the major asset classes. Path 3 – Let me have it all - This option allows you to access thousands of investment options through a self-directed brokerage account at TD Ameritrade if you are willing to take on the additional risks and costs of managing your account. You should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of the mutual funds offered through a retirement plan, carefully before investing. The fund prospectuses and information booklet containing this and other information can be obtained by contacting your local representative. Please read the information carefully before investing.

Mutual funds offered under a custodial or trust account agreement are long-term investments designed for retirement purposes. Early withdrawals from a 403(b) plan will be subject to an IRC 10% premature distribution penalty tax, if taken prior to age 59½, unless an exception applies. The 10% IRC premature distribution penalty tax on early withdrawals doesn't apply to amounts contributed to 457(b) plans or amounts rolled into those plans from other governmental 457 plans. Money taken from the plan will be taxed as ordinary income in the year the money is distributed. Account values fluctuate with market conditions, and when redeemed the principal may be worth more or less than its original amount invested.

For 403(b)(1) fixed or variable annuities, employee deferrals (including earnings) may generally be distributed only upon your: attainment of age 59½, severance from employment, death, disability, or hardship. Note: Hardship withdrawals are limited to employee deferrals made after 12/31/88. Exceptions to the distribution rules: No Internal Revenue Code withdrawal restrictions apply to '88 cash value (employee deferrals (including earnings) as of 12/31/88) and employer contributions (including earnings). However, employer contributions made to an annuity contract issued after December 31, 2008 may not be paid or made available before a distributable event occurs. Such amounts may be distributed to a participant or if applicable, the beneficiary: upon the participant's severance from employment or upon the occurrence of an event, such as after a fixed number of years, the attainment of a stated age, or disability. For 403(b)(7) custodial accounts, employee deferrals and employer contributions (including earnings) may only be distributed upon your: attainment of age 59½, severance from employment, death, disability, or hardship. Note: hardship withdrawals are limited to: employee deferrals and '88 cash value (earnings on employee deferrals and employer contributions (including earnings) as of 12/31/88).
